Irish Rebels Reject Peace Overtures Two Disasters, One In New Mexico, One In Canada, Claim Heavy Toll French Soldiers Use Tanks To Break Up Demonstration

LONDON, Feb. 9.—(By the A. P.)—The Irish rebels have declined to enter into peace negotiations, according to a press association message from Dublin.

Lynch, chief of the Republican forces in reply to the peace proposals of Liam Deasy, informed him officially (on behalf of the Republican government and army command) that the proposals could not be accepted.

DUBLIN, February 9.—(By the Associated Press)—The proposal for surrender contained in Liam Deasy's letter to Eamon DeValera and other leading irregulars cannot be considered, says an official communication issued by the Republican headquarters staff on behalf of the Republican government and its army council.

DUBLIN, February 9.—(By the Associated Press)—Hopes for a reconciliation between the Irish Free State government and at least an important part of the Republican element were brighter today in consequence of developments that led Richard Mulcahy, the minister of defense to offer amnesty "to all in arms against the government who will surrender their arms on or before February 18."

The minister's proclamation was the result of Liam Deasy's appeal to other Republican leaders to lay down their arms as he himself has consented to do. DeValera's chief deputy, is one of several irregulars who have been sentenced to death. A few days ago, however, he signed an agreement for the surrender of arms and men and was then permitted to issue a communication to several prominent Republicans, including DeValera. Meanwhile stays of execution have been granted.

Just what will be DeValera's response to the appeal is unknown.

LONDON, February 9.—(By the Associated Press)—Officials of the Ulster government have received information that the Republicans are preparing for an extensive incendiary campaign in Belfast and six of the northern counties, says the Belfast correspondent of the Central News.

DAWSON, NEW MEXICO, February 9.—(By the Associated Press)—Two miners of the 122 entombed yesterday in mine No. 1 here, of the Phelps-Dodge Corporation, came out alive today.

They walked out unassisted. As they neared the mouth of the mine they met a rescue party coming in. The men were Charles Candale and Felipe Martinez.

They were in the fourth south tier of the property when the terrific blast came. They immediately put out the lights on their lamps with the intention of saving these for use in making their escape. This act undoubtedly saved their lives, mine officials pointed out, as it eliminated the chance of an explosion in their vicinity.

Candale and Martinez remained in the mine all night, afraid to venture from the tier where they were standing when the explosion came. Today they decided to risk the danger of possible gas and walked out of the mine.

The escape of the pair caused renewed hope that other miners inside were alive. As the miners stepped from the workings of the property a cheer rang out from the eager group of watchers at the mine's mouth.

DAWSON, NEW MEXICO, February 9.—(By the Associated Press)—Seven bodies of miners entombed in mine No. 1, of the Phelps-Dodge Corporation here by an explosion yesterday afternoon have been recovered, the company has announced that there is "very little hope" of rescuing alive the other 115 men who were in the mine at the time of the accident.

The blast was of such force that it toppled cement walls which formed the exterior of the entrance and hurled large timbers 50 to 100 feet. The explosion was heard all over Dawson and the blast brought a group of anxious wives, mothers and other relatives to the pit head. The women, some hatless despite the wintry breezes, others tightly wrapped in shawls,

Mine Disasters

A list of notable disasters recorded in mining history follows: 1869—Avondale mine, Plymouth, Pa., 179 killed. 1884—Laurel mine, Pocahontas, Va., 112 killed. 1892—Mine Number 11, Krebs, Okla., 100 killed. 1906—Seefeld, Utah, 200 killed. 1903—Hanna, Wyo., 169 killed. 1906—Courrières mine, Pas de Calais, France, 1,099 killed. 1907—Barr mine, Jacobs Creek, Pa., 239 killed. 1907—Motongah mines No. 6 and 8, West Virginia, 361 killed. 1909—St. Paul mine, Cherry Hills, Illinois, 256 killed. 1911—Barnes mine, Littleton, Ala., 125 killed. 1913—Stagg Canon mine No. 2, Dawson, N. M., 263 killed. 1913—Cincinnati-Monongahela Coal and Coke Company, Fin-felville, Pa., 115 killed. 1914—Eckles, W. Va., 181 killed. 1914—Hillcrest, Alberta, 189 killed. 1915—Layland, W. Va., 111 killed. 1917—Speelers Copper Mine, Butte, Mont., 163 killed. 1917—Hastings mine, Victor American Fuel Company, Hastings, Colo., 119 killed. 1922—Argonaut mine, Jackson, Calif., 47 killed. 1922—Dolomite No. 3, near Birmingham, Ala., 91 killed.

some tight lipped and dry eyed, while others were sobbing and hysterical, waited for some sign to indicate whether their men folk would be brought from the mine. The news quickly spread that the miners had small chance to escape alive.

As soon as the entrance, which had been blocked by the explosion, could be cleared, exploration of the mine was begun under the direction of the manager and general superintendent. The men reached where the motorman and nipper, who were only a short distance inside the mine. Both were dead. As ventilation was restored by construction of temporary stoppings on cross cuts, the rescuers proceeded into the mine.

They encountered numerous falls and considerable debris. At midnight the rescuers had gone approximately a mile under ground but they had not reached the actual working places of the miners.

The large number of people have remained as near the mine entrance as they could get ever since the explosion but there had been no disorder.

One hundred and forty-one miners entered the mine yesterday, but 19 of them had checked out before the explosion, so that 122 men were in the mine when the accident occurred.

The mine was what is commonly termed in this district a "non-gaseous one," and was extensively equipped with a sprinkling system. The fire hoses which remained in the mine on the night preceding the explosion did not report any unusual conditions. The cause of the explosion has not been determined.

The ventilating fan was so located and installed that it was not damaged by the explosion and continued in operation. The main force of the explosion passed through the intake air-way, which is the main haulage road, and on reaching the surface, demolished the concrete portal. Subsequently the haulage way caved in at that point.

The mine, which was one of the smaller of the eight mines operated here by the Phelps-Dodge Corporation, had a capacity of about 600 tons a day.

A statement by the Phelps-Dodge Corporation here to The Associated Press said: "Owing to the fumes which permeated the mine following the explosion, very little hope is entertained that any of the men who were in the mine, will be found alive."

With the arrival of the mine rescue car sent by the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company from Trinidad, Colo., rescue work was pushed with redoubled energy. The work of entering the mine and excavating through the caved-in tunnels is a task which presents no little risk. The fumes in the mine still are dense.

During the night and early today four members of rescue crews have been overcome by the fumes and have had to be carried out by their comrades.

Many of the rescuers have been struck by falling rock. The walls and ceilings of the tunnels are shaky and the excavating parties frequently are obliged to retrace their steps to clear the tunnels of debris that has fallen behind them.

CUMBERLAND, BRITISH COLUMBIA, February 9.—(By the Associated Press)—Fifty-one coal miners lost their lives when fire damp exploded in the second level of Mine No. 4 of the Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir Ltd.) two miles from here, last night. It was estimated by mine officials after twenty-one bodies had been brought to the surface today.

It was estimated that 30 bodies were still in the mine. All the bodies, it was expected, would be removed by 10:30 o'clock. About 30 of the victims were said to be Chinese.

CUMBERLAND, B. C., Feb. 9.—Twenty bodies had been recovered this morning morning and more than twenty other coal miners were believed to have perished in an explosion of fire damp last night in Slope No. 5 of the Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir Limited) on Vancouver Island, two miles from here.

The disaster was the second to occur in Mine 3, in six months. An explosion there August 30, 1922, took a toll of thirteen lives. Physicians, nurses and all able-bodied men in the community were rushed to the mine but it was found that air had been cut off from that part of the workings in which the miners were entrapped.

Thus it was evident that the rescuers would work at great peril, as a deadly gas was believed to have permeated much of the mine. Most of the victims were white men although there was a sprinkling of orientals among them. Many leave large families.

Cumberland is on Vancouver Island, 120 miles northwest of Victoria and the terminus of a railroad beginning at Victoria. The population is 1,200. Practically everyone went to the mine, either to help in the rescue or to stand by awaiting news.

Many women, wives and relatives, stood at the mine entrance some fearful, others tensely calm. All night they kept their vigil, pressing feverishly about the rescuers as the bodies were brought out, a few at a time.

One Chinese was brought out alive and taken to a hospital while four others of those entrapped still breathed but were near death when found three miles from the mouth of the tunnel. A rescue party with salvage apparatus was trying to revive the four by artificial respiration.

The explosion occurred at 8 o'clock just after the night shift had gone in. Between fifty and sixty were reported missing after the explosion.

No hope was held of recovering alive the rest of the imprisoned men as they were entombed in sections filled with the poisonous gas. Practically all of the deaths were attributed to asphyxiation.

ON TRIAL

Mrs. Paulette Saludes goes on trial in New York February 14th, charged with the murder of Oscar M. Martelliere, real estate broker, whom she shot and killed in his New York office October 14.

DUESSELDORF, February 9.—(By the Associated Press)—French soldiers, aided by tanks, broke up a demonstration at Keedlinghausen yesterday held in protest against the expulsion of police. Not a shot was fired.

Generally speaking, the Ruhr situation remains unchanged and is varied only by such incidents as this. German resistance is even more staunch than ever, while the French are endeavoring to organize transportation by rail and water.

The French report that agents from Berlin are canvassing the Ruhr villages and towns urging the workers to resist and strike.

Food is becoming scarcer. The French plan to lift the duties from such foodstuffs as are now taxable.

The railroad strike is still complete throughout the entire area occupied by the French military.

Four hundred car loads of coal are now in the yards outside Duisburg awaiting transportation to France.

The forces of occupation have had more success in organizing the river traffic, and now maintain a fleet of 21 tugs on the Rhine.

Dr. Oter, the burgomaster of Duisburg, has been arrested and jailed by the Belgian authorities.

The French threaten to place an embargo on the export of manufactured articles and steel and iron as well. They also threaten to forbid the importation.

Extensive French Troop Maneuvers Reported

Terrific Explosion

TULSA, OKLA., February 9.—(By the United Press)—A terrific explosion, believed to have occurred at Jenkins, 12 miles distance, broke windows of residences and office buildings here shortly before noon. All telephone lines in the vicinity of Jenkins were put out of commission by the explosion. A nitro-glycerine storage magazine is located on Turkey Mountain, near Jenkins, and this is believed to have exploded.

BERLIN, February 9.—(By the United Press)—Extensive French troop maneuvers are in full swing in the Ruhr Valley according to dispatches from Essen and other centers. The French having encircled the Ruhr are evidently now engaged in dividing the district into two parts by a line running north and south which would isolate Essen and cut off its food supply. One column of troops moved southward from Recklinghausen, thence running westward beyond Baykay. Others marched eastward. A third group went toward Wanne and Gelsenkirchen. In every case the French drove German railroad employees from stations and switch houses. These are believed to be the new and stronger measures which General Weygand threatened to inflict. A complete cessation of passenger rail traffic throughout the Ruhr Valley is reported.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—(By the A. P.)—An agreement has been reached between the Turkish authorities in Smyrna and the allied naval commanders, says an exchange telegraph dispatch by way of Constantinople under which the status quo would be maintained pending diplomatic negotiations.

CONSTANTINOPLE, February 9.—(By the United Press)—The Smyrna situation is critical today.

The allied squadron is remaining in the harbor despite the Turkish order to depart at once.

Notice has been served on the Turkish commander that the British warships are ready to commence firing if attacked. The Turks admittedly have mined the harbor so that it would be exceedingly dangerous to attempt to move without knowing the location of the mines.

When a demand was made on the Smyrna commander that he sweep up these mines, he flatly refused, adding that the allied canal officers would have to hire Turkish pilots to guide them out of the harbor.

According to the best information here the only American war vessel in Smyrna harbor is a destroyer of less than 1,000 tons.

LONDON, February 9.—(By the United Press)—Turkey today informed the allies it was impossible to revoke the ultimatum ordering all allied warships of more than 1,000 tons to leave Smyrna an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Constantinople stated. The statement was made to the allied representatives by Admiral Day in behalf of the Ankara government.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—(By the A. P.)—A report that the Turks now demand the withdrawal of allied warships from Ismid was received here today from Constantinople. The entrance to Ismid and Smyrna harbors are said to have been mined. Ismid, located at the head of the Gulf of Ismid, is 56 miles east of Constantinople. The British and French naval craft now at Smyrna have been instructed to remain in the harbor while the allied commanders have demanded that the Ankara government countermand its order for the departure of the ships.

Serious Charges Against House Of David Colony

PAW PAW, MICH., February 9.—(By the Associated Press)—Any act of Benjamin Purnell, head of the Israhelie House of David at Benton Harbor, is sacred and right and an act of God," members of the cult are taught, according to Mrs. Ruth B. Reed and Mrs. Gladys B. Hubel, of Detroit, plaintiffs, in an $8,000 damage suit against Purnell. The women seek to recover property they allege was turned over to the House of David Colony by their parents. Among other charges against members of the cult is that of immoral practices.

Charges against the colony were made in affidavits by Mrs. Reed and Mrs. Hubel, sisters who declare their parents, wealthy residents of Australia, were induced to join the colony in 1904.

Upon being admitted, Purnell demanded that all the family's property be turned over to him and that this was done. It is alleged. The property still is held by the head of the colony, his wife being in possession now of jewels belonging to the mother of the plaintiffs they say. The mother is still a member of the sect.

Mrs. Reed declares in her affidavit that when she was four years of age, she and her sister were taught that Purnell's acts were sacred. She declared she and her sister were among 26 girls alleged to have been forced into marriage with men of the colony whom they did not love. Her marriage took place when she was sixteen years of age. Hundreds for these girls, the affidavit stated, were selected by Purnell.

Both plaintiffs charged immoral practices against Purnell and other members of his colony.

Affidavits denying the latter charge have been filed by attorneys for Purnell.

Pharmacists call it "Joint Ease". Because it's for Swollen, Sore, Painful, Creaky Joints Only.

It took a good many years to get together a combination of pain subduing and swelling reducing agents declared to be the one remedy that almost instantly penetrates through skin and flesh and starts right in to make swollen, inflamed, creaky, pain racked joints as good as new.

They call this new and wonderful preparation "Joint Ease" because the medical man who turned the trick, worked for years to perfect some low-priced remedy that would really benefit the millions of people who have one or more joints that need helpful attention.

So "Joint Ease" is prepared only for people who have a swollen, painful, creaky, distorted or stiff joint, whether it be in knee, elbow, shoulder, ankle, neck or finger and whether it is caused by rheumatism or something else.

Of course, it can't help but quickly put an end to such superficial ailments as lumbago, neuralgia, neuritis, aching muscles, stitch in the side, crick in the neck or sore feet because of its penetrating action, but what it is really recommended for is joint ailments of any nature whatever.

Ask for a tube of "Joint Ease". You can use it several times in one evening for quick results, because it goes right through the skin with only a few seconds' rubbing. It surely is a swift penetrator and when it gets under the skin, it starts right into clean up all joint trouble.

Fisher and Streich's Pharmacy dispenses it daily for about 60 cents a tube, as do first class druggists everywhere.—advertisement.

Tanlac High
Favorite Of
This Family

"We are all enthusiastic over Tanlac at our house and just wouldn't be without it," recently said Mrs. E. Smith of 625 Erie St., Youngstown, Ohio.

"We have used Tanlac in the family for several years and in every instance the results are always the same.

"For stomach trouble, I don't believe anything in the world equals the medicine, and I know whereof I speak, for it relieved me entirely and gave me such a splendid digestion that nothing disagrees with me now."

"Then, too, for a run-down, weakened condition, the treatment gives better results than anything else I have ever seen. Why the way it increases the appetite, aids the digestion and builds one up in strength and weight is simply astonishing.

"Besides my own family, I have so many friends and neighbors who speak highly of Tanlac until it would seem that our whole neighborhood is praising it. Tanlac is truly a medicine for all the family."

Johnny Ball, 7, temporary resident of Rhodes Avenue.

THE SCENE

Weaver accident, 30 feet west of Center street.

Ball accident, 50 feet east of Center street.

THE MACHINES

Car in Weaver accident, Ford touring car.

Car in Ball accident, Ford delivery truck.

DIRECT CAUSE OF DEATHS

Death in both cases due to fractured skull.

Both victims had crossed street car tracks.

Accidents occurred within one month.

Death was instantaneous for Johnny Ball, 7 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ball of Black Oak, Belmont county, Ohio, Thursday afternoon about 3:30 o'clock when his skull was crushed by the front wheel of a light delivery truck driven by Frank Emmett, grocer, of New Boston, the scene of the fatal accident being on Rhodes Avenue, New Boston just east of Center street, about fifty yards from where Mrs. Martha Weaver, 46, Rhodes Avenue, suffered fatal injuries when struck by an automobile on the evening of January 10.

Investigation by Coroner Virgil Fowler and Marshal William Conley of New Boston showed, they say, that the accident was unavoidable and that Emmett could not be held in any way responsible, statements of witnesses showing that the lad directly into the path of the truck, while Mr. Emmett made every possible effort to miss him. Relatives of the boy say they had warned him many times about playing in the street, and as they know Mr. Emmett to be a careful driver, are not inclined to blame him.

Mr. Emmett picked up the injured boy and took him to the office of Dr. A. B. Mills, a square west of the accident, but the physician found the skull crushed to such an extent that death had probably been instantaneous. The left side and back of the skull at the base of the brain were crushed.

Mrs. Janie Ball and her four children have been visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Bishop, 4013 Rhodes Avenue, near, since a week before Christmas. Mrs. Ball was called here to attend her mother, who was injured on Thanksgiving Day, when her feet were run over by an automobile as she stepped from the curb in front of her home. The Ball children have played about the neighborhood and often crossed the street to go to the home of their mother and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bishop, 4022 Rhodes Avenue, yesterday afternoon Stella Ball, 11-year-old sister of the accident victim, was standing on the porch of the Frank Bishop home, when she noticed her brother start across the street from in front of the Martin Hall home, 4007 Rhodes Avenue. She was an eye witness to the fatal accident, and when she saw the machine strike the boy she ran across the street to her mother, screaming, "Mother, Johnny is killed." The mother hurried to the street just in time to climb onto the running-board of the Emmett truck which was carrying her son to the physician's office. She remained at the boy's side in the doctor's office until after Coroner Virgil Fowler examined the body and ordered it removed to Undertaker J. L. Richard's morgue. Mrs. Ball withstood the shock well and did not break down completely until several hours after the body had been removed to the undertaking parlors in Portsmouth.

According to Frank Emmett, who has a grocery at 4045 Rhodes Avenue, he was driving east on Rhodes Avenue with Ray Evans, his clerk, occupying the seat of the truck with him. He says he was driving very slow, as he intended to stop at the John Ball home, about 25 feet east of where the accident occurred. The driver says his attention was called to the lad in the street, when a colored man, who was driving a machine west on Rhodes, yelled at the boy to get out of the street. Emmett says he looked to one side just in time to see the boy throw himself to the ground, probably in an attempt to keep from running into the path of the truck. He fell just far enough forward from the south rail of the car track, for the left front wheel of the truck to pass over his head. Emmett says he turned sharply to the right in an effort to miss the boy, but the turn was not quick enough. Emmett stopped the truck just a few feet from the boy, ran back, picked him up and carried him to the truck and ordered Evans to drive to the office of Dr. Mills.

Evans tells the same story of the accident as Emmett, claiming that the boy darted across the street from the north side and directly into the path of the machine.

Mrs. Martha Ball was at the front door of her home when the fatal accident occurred. The Ball family was moving yesterday and had some furnishings on the sidewalk in front of the house. She says the lad had been playing about the household effects and started across the street just after the Emmett truck passed Center street. There was a sedan parked against the north curb just west of the Ball home and Mrs. Ball says that Emmett could not see the boy leave the north curb as he was behind the automobile parked there. She also heard the colored man call to the lad to get out of the street, the boy running out into the street some distance ahead of the machine driven by the colored man. Mrs. George Griffin of 4014 Rhodes Avenue was at the front gate of her yard and she heard the machine run over

NEW LAMP BURNS 94 PERCENT AIR

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 36 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise. No pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 percent air and 6 percent common kerosene (real oil).

The inventor, E. A. Johnson, 605 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 1 day's FREE trial, or even to give our FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $50 to $50 per month.—Advertisement.

The driver of the machine never stopped. Mrs. Bishop was carrying a grandchild, a child of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bishop, in her arms at the time she was struck down, that accident occurring in front of the David Bishop home, as Mrs. Bishop started across the street to the home of her daughter-in-law.

Mr. Emmett, driver of the truck, yesterday, is well known in New Boston, and every one who knows him, says he is a careful driver. Last night Mr. Emmett said he would be willing to pay the funeral expenses of the accident victim as he wants to help the family in every way possible.

A telegram was sent to the father last night, notifying him of the death and he is expected to arrive here tonight. Funeral arrangements will be made on his arrival.

Burial will probably be in the Wheelersburg cemetery.

Engaged To R. C. Vanderbilt

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—(By Associated Press.)—Seeking parental blessings on her marriage to Reginald C. Vanderbilt on February 17, Miss Gloria Morgan has called her father, Harry Hays Morgan, American consul general at Brussels that she and Mr. Vanderbilt are engaged.

She told her father and mother in the message that she and Mr. Vanderbilt hoped to sail on the steamship Albatross on March 3, to join them in Brussels.

Mr. Vanderbilt is 43 years old. He is the son of Mrs. Vanderbilt and the late Cornelius Vanderbilt and came into an estate of $8,000,000 when he became of age in 1901.

He was married in 1903 to Miss Cathleen Gifford Nelson, who divorced him sixteen years later, alleging desertion. She is now the wife of Sydney J. Gifford Jr. The daughter Cathleen was given to the wife.

Mr. Vanderbilt, a noted sportsman and polo player, inherited also $5,000,000 by the will of his brother, the late Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, who was lost with the Lusitania. Neither Mr. Vanderbilt nor Miss Morgan would give any information regarding their wedding plans.

Four Hurt In Blaze

CLEVELAND, O., February 9.—(By the Associated Press.)—Four men were injured in fighting a fire that swept through the new Commonwealth five-story office building this morning causing a loss estimated at between $200,000 and $300,000. The blaze started in the basement of the building under a drug store from spontaneous combustion and spread rapidly through the upper stories.

Firemen were seriously hampered in their work by the suffocating fumes that filtered through the burning building as chemicals stored in the basement were caught in the path of the fire.

They were driven back several times, half blinded and almost suffocated by the dense smoke. Low water pressure gave the flames a chance to gain considerable headway.

How He Cured His Rupture

Old Sea Captain Cured His Own Rupture After Doctors Said "Operate or Death"

His Remedy and Book Sent Free
Captain Collings called the seas for many years; then he sustained a bad double rupture that soon forced him to not only remain ashore, but kept him bedridden for years. He tried doctor after doctor and trust after trust. No results! Finally, he was assured that he must either submit to a dangerous and abortive operation or die. He did neither! He cured himself instead.

Captain Collings made a study of himself, of his condition—and at last he was rewarded by the finding of the method that so quickly made him a well, strong, vigorous and happy man. Anyone can use the same method; it's simple, easy, safe and inexpensive. Every ruptured person in the world should have the Captain Collings book, telling all about how he cured himself and how anyone may follow the same treatment in their own home without any trouble. The book and medicine are FREE. They will be sent prepaid to any ruptured sufferer who will fill out the below coupon. But send it right away—now—before you put down this paper.

Depressed Feeling
"I AM now using Cardui," said Mrs. Flara Daniels. "It was recommended to me for change of life. I have taken two bottles and am feeling so much stronger than I have in a long time. The depressed feeling is gone. I enjoy working in my yard and garden and visiting. I am going to keep it up, for Cardui is helping me."

MRS. I. J. WILLIAMS
Wiville Arkansas

Mother and Daughter
"I USED Cardui for a week, run-down condition," said Mrs. I. J. Williams. "I used to suffer quite a bit with pain in my left side, a great deal of soreness in this side. I suffered several years with this trouble. I heard of Cardui and it certainly did relieve me. I was strengthened and helped and felt much better after taking it. I cannot say enough for what it has done for me. I used it for my daughter for... trouble and she was much benefited. Cardui has been my stand-by and we take it, when we need a tonic, with good results."

MRS. L. F. WALKER
Wiville Arkansas

Womanly Weakness
"I WAS A SUFFERER for some time with womanly weakness," said Mrs. L. F. Walker. "Each month my back and sides would ache, and I had pains in the lower part of my body. When in this condition I felt so cross and bad. I tried teas and going to bed, but the next month I had to go through with it all again. A lady friend told me of the Cardui and I sent for it. I took two bottles and it helped me. I did not have the pain at... I have taken it twice in the Spring, as a tonic. I think it is a splendid builder. After taking I would have a good appetite and feel more like doing my work."

MRS. A. L. STAGGS
Wiville Arkansas

Pains in Sides
"I HAD the worst pains in my sides and bearing down on each side imaginable," said Mrs. A. L. Staggs. "I felt at times when I would step off of anything quick like there was a boil in my side. My hips were sore and when I would stand I suffered misery. I tried... anything any one told me. Ease was what I wanted. A friend told my husband of Cardui and I bless the day. I took a number of bottles. Now I ride, walk, and go and feel fine. The soreness disappeared from my sides. I... gradually got my strength back. I believe I owe my good health to Cardui. With the Cardui I took an occasional dose of Black-Draught. It is good to regulate the bowels and cleanse the system."

MRS. LONNIE SUTTON
Wiville Arkansas

Cramp & Pain
"I USED TO CRAMP... and have pain in my back and shoulders and I would have headache," said Mrs. Lonnie Sutton. "I would suffer so I did not feel like doing my work, and I felt like I would like to sit down to do my work. I didn't sleep well, turning and twisting. I would imagine I was worse than what I was, especially when I would cramp. My mother had used Cardui, so I sent for a bottle. It helped me right off. I felt so much better until I used it for a few months at... I did not cramp after this and I slept so much better at night. I would take an occasional dose of Black-Draught, and that with the Cardui, was of great benefit to me."

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly—Would you kindly tell me where to have blended oils separated and analyzed.

A SCHOOL BOY.
I would advise you to ask a chemist to answer this question, as it seems to be out of my line. However, if you want to indulge in a few "chemical surprises" and pastimes just for the fun of it you might get yourself a few slips of window glass and a few chemicals and try an experiment or two yourself. Chemical surprises are the effects that result from the different degrees of affinity which different subjects have for each other, and the change produced by combination. Chemical affinity is an attraction of a peculiar kind. The attraction of gravitation exerts its influence on all bodies; but chemical attraction, or affinity exists only between particular substances. It is described as "that tendency to unite, which many bodies, possessing different qualities, exert toward each other." For instance ammonia (an alkali) has a stronger affinity, or is strongly attracted to unite with oil, but has a stronger affinity for any of the acids, or, in other words they attract it more powerfully than the oil. It will happen consequently that if ammonia and oil are brought into close contact with each other by being mixed together, they will chemically combine, and form a compound body which, in fact, is a kind of a soap; but as the ammonia has a stronger affinity for an acid than oil, it will happen, that if you mix a little sulphuric acid with the soapy mixture, that the ammonia will be attracted from the oil, and chemically combined with the acid.

Dear Miss Wise—To settle an argument, will you please answer the following question: If a boy is taken before the Probate Judge and made a ward of the court, is he considered such after he is eighteen years of age?

WANT-TO-KNOW.
The Probate Court has no authority over boys 18 years of age or over, but if they need attention they will be taken care of by some other court.

Dear Dolly—Would you please print in your column whether a girl can go from the fifth grade to the seventh grade?

ANOTHER BILL.
If fifth grade pupils are exceptionally bright and capable of doing the work in the seventh grade they may skip the sixth grade. Children are promoted irregularly from grade to grade as the occasion demands.

Dear Dolly—What do you think of parents who will not trust their daughter to go to the show by herself or with a girl friend. The show is only about a square and a half away from their house. If the girls go to the show the parents follow them or hide by the wayside and watch them. Just what do you think of parents who cannot trust their children? If they can't trust them whose fault is it. Why didn't they raise them up so they could be trusted? They don't want their daughter to speak to a man if they meet him on the street. The daughter is supposed to go along like a dummy and not speak to anyone just like she was the only pebble on the beach. The girl has a brother, but he is so bashful from being kept at home so much that he is afraid to go out or look at any body. The parents treated two older daughters this way and they left home when they got a chance, and the other one will do the same if they do not loosen up a bit and allow her a few privileges. The parents would not be so bad if it were not for their nosy neighbors who pay more attention to their daughter than they do to their own business, don't you.

BLACK EYES.
I sure do think people should mind their own business, especially when it comes to neglecting their own families in order to keep tabs on their neighbors. Parents often force their daughters to be untruthful and deceitful in trying to make them what they call good children. The girls will go places and then "put one over" on their parents, by going to forbidden places, and telling them they were elsewhere.

Dear Dolly—Will you please put in the evening paper how to make good bread out of whole wheat flour.

Whole-Wheat Bread.—One cake compressed yeast, three level table-spoons brown sugar, 1 1/2 cups lukewarm water, 1 1/2 cups milk, scalded and cooled, three table-spoons of melted lard, 7 1/2 cups of whole wheat flour, one teaspoon salt. Dissolve the yeast and sugar in lukewarm liquid; add lard or butter; then flour gradually, as whole wheat flour absorbs moisture slowly, and last the salt. Knead thoroughly, being sure to keep dough soft, place in well greased bowl, cover and set aside in warm place to rise for two hours. When double in bulk, turn out on kneading board. Mold into loaves, place in well greased pans; cover and let rise again for about one hour, or until light. Bake one hour, in a slower oven than for white bread. If wanted over night use 1 1/2 cake of yeast and an extra teaspoon of salt.

Dear Dolly—Has the State of Illinois voted a Soldiers' bonus bill? If so, to whom should I write regarding same. I was inducted into service in Illinois and want to apply for my bonus if one is due me. Do I write a legible hand? A. R. T.

I have never heard of a bonus for Illinois soldiers. However, you might write to Governor Len Small, Springfield, Illinois, and ask him about it.

BORIE.

Dear Dolly—I am eighteen years of age and am dead in love with a certain boy. We have been going together for about six months. Now Dolly, he acts like he cares for me when he is around me, but gets mad so easy. Do you think he really cares for me?

He may care for you, but beware of a man who has a terrible temper.

Dear Dolly—I am 17 years of age. Do you think I am old enough to go with the boys? Dolly, do you think it is fair for two girls to have to stay at home all the time while their father runs around wherever he wants to go? We live real close to church but he will not let us go. All girls like to have a good time, and we are extra good girls. Please give us your advice.

KENTUCKY READERS.
You are not old enough to keep company with the boys, but if you

THE Scotch peasants observe many quaint customs hundreds of years old. One is a race between the men guests, to get first from the church to the bride's home, with news that the ceremony is over. A bowl of brose and a glass of whisky are the winner's reward. The bride always is lifted over the threshold by the bridegroom and a broom, poker and tongs are placed in her hands immediately.

Adventures Of The Twins

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Goodness!" exclaimed Nancy one day when she was helping Mr. Stumps, the fairy postman, to sort the letters in the hickory tree postoffice. "Here's a letter for me! It looks like a valentine. Yes, sir! It's got hearts and flowers all over it. Who do you s'pose it's from?"

She read it over to herself and then called to Nick and Mr. Stumps and Mr. Stridentong Longstride, the other little fairy, to hear it. Here's what it said:

"Whose hair is like the morning sun? Whose sweet blue eyes are full of fun? Whose mouth is curved like Cupid's bow? Whose skin is soft as fallen snow? Why, Nancy's!"

Who's busy all the livelong day? Who laughs at work and laughs at play? Who's kind to everyone she meets. And everyone she passes greets? Why, Nancy!

At the meeting of the Missionary Society of the United Brethren Church on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles May, 1809 Offshore Street, a beautiful memorial service to the late Mrs. Katie Thompson was held. Mrs. Thompson is the first member lost to the society in 22 years of its existence. Letters from their foreign missionaries, the Rev. and Mrs. Minney who are in Africa, were read, and upon their expression of the need of a printing press, the members voted to send them one.

Mrs. Nancy Reese was a guest of the afternoon.

"Dear old Mr. Peerabout!" laughed Nancy. "He's one of my best friends. Nick, we'll have to go and see him again soon while we have our Magic Green Shoes."

"Deed and we will," said Nick. (To Be Continued) (Copyright, 1923, NEA Service)

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES

Jack didn't have time to stay any longer with the baby dolls. He thought he had best get Flip and make him realize that all the toy animals in the department store were his friends. So, shortly, he was introducing his dog to bears, kittens, monkeys, elephants and lots of other animals.

One of these was a cute little kitten who stood up on top of a counter. "I want to get down on the floor," meowed this little fuzzy ball, "but it's so far I'm afraid to jump." "Flip will help you," replied Jack, and Flip then stood up on his hind legs and gently lifted the kitten to the floor.

"Now you are safe and sound," said Jack. But the tiny kitten wasn't so sure of that, for no sooner had he landed on the floor than a small meow at his feet set him off and almost ran over his tail. "Where are you going?" shouted Jack to the driver. "To the races," came the reply. (Continued.)

SOCIETY

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of Biegrow M. E. church will meet next Tuesday afternoon at the home of Miss Jessie Draper, 721 Sixth street. Her assistant hostesses will be Mrs. Lewis Adams, Mrs. W. L. Liston, Mrs. John Kaps, Mrs. C. E. Chandler and the Misses Sue and Sallie Reed.

A Valentine party will be given by the Junior League of the First Evangelical church in the gymnasium of the Sunday school Saturday afternoon, from 2 till 4:30. All members of the League are cordially invited.

Over one hundred and fifty girls attended the Martha Washington banquet which was held in the social room of the Second Presbyterian church last evening at six o'clock.

The banquet was served at ten long tables, covers being laid for fifteen girls at each table. Each table was centered with a large couple doll dressed as Martha Washington, while on either side were large red, white and blue candles. Small candles set in pine cones were also placed at each place and these were lighted as the girls were seated at the table, the effect being quite artistic.

The boys of the church served the banquet in a most approved manner. They were dressed in white coats and white aprons.

Following the supper the girls were invited into another room, where they enjoyed interesting talks by Mrs. W. E. Pocock of Columbus and Rev. Preston White of Jackson. Later they were taken on a tour of inspection by Miss Helen Dowling, who guided them through the war relic room, where they had the pleasure of viewing a group of pictures sent to the church especially for Young People's Week by the Museum of Art, Boston, Mass. Among the masterpieces on exhibition were "Washington Crossing the Delaware," "Visions of Washington's Old Age," "The Bright Lights of Washington's Era," Washington's Earliest Home.

This evening, at six o'clock, a George Washington banquet will be served for the boys of the church, when the girls will reciprocate by serving the boys. They will be dressed in attractive Martha Washington costumes and the affair promises to be as enjoyable as the one held last night.

Stephens Is Dismissed On Liquor-Furnishing Charge

When the case of O. M. Stephens of Railroad Hollow, near South Webster, came up before Squire George Morgan at the sheriff's office Friday afternoon, less than a half a dozen witnesses were heard when Squire Morgan dismissed the charge of furnishing intoxicating liquor to William Stiles, who died recently at his home in South Webster. The complaint against Stephens was filed by a relative of the deceased. Judge Harry Ball represented the state and Judge T. C. Beatty defended Stephens. A large number of witnesses were present but after several had testified as to the good character of the defendant and no incriminating evidence had been introduced, the charge was immediately dismissed.

Mr. Taylor raises this breed of

Arrest Men Carrying Money For Rhine Railroad Strikers

PARIS, February 9.—(By the Associated Press)—A number of arrests have been made at Mayence of individuals carrying large sums of money intended for the railroad strikers in the Rhineland it was announced at the foreign office today.

An order for a general rail strike in the Ruhr is expected in government circles at the end of this week or the beginning of next week and it is anticipated that this may bring about a crisis in the Ruhr situation and possibly change the current of events.

It is pointed out in official circles here that the German government is in a dilemma between sanctioning a continuation of work in the Ruhr, which would be likely to favor the French plans and a general strike which would obstruct the provisioning of the district and presumably sow discontent among the working people. It is thought that Berlin will risk a strike, endeavoring to place the responsibility for an inconvenience or suffering by the population upon the French.

Off For Spring Battle Practice

LOS ANGELES, CALIF., February 9.—(By the Associated Press)—Nine dreadnaughts were steaming southward today in Mexican waters to join the submarine destroyer and training forces which left here early in the week for spring battle practice. The meeting will take place off Magdalena Bay next Monday and the United States fleet will constitute the United States battle fleet.

From the rendezvous off Magdalena Bay the battle fleet will proceed down the coast of Central America until it sights the scouting fleet formerly the Atlantic fleet, which will attempt to block its progress toward the canal zone.

Submarines, destroyers, battle cruisers, bombing planes and all types of national fighting craft will participate in the spectacular maneuvers which will grow out of this meeting of the two fleets.

When the last "shot" has been "fired" and one or the other of the opposing forces has been "sunk," "captured" or "repulsed," the two fleets will proceed together to the Panama canal, where they will make a joint "attack" on the canal zone fortifications.

In the offensive against the canal, the 14 inch guns of superdreadnaught will be pitted against the sixteen inch guns of the land batteries. The outcome of the sham attack is expected to demonstrate the truth or untruth of a number of theories held by the naval experts as to the vulnerability of the canal zone.

Equipped with radio controls, the crewless Iowa will be sent into action and maneuvered under the wireless until she goes to the bottom, full speed ahead with colors flying.

Kettering, "Why Wives Go Wrong." This is probably the most important question of the present age of thers, jazz dancing, petting parties and joy rides. On every side woman is beset with temptations that would try the virtue of even St. Anthony himself. A daring solution to this problem is offered in the stage play, "Why Wives Go Wrong," which is billed for three days' run at the Sun. In the cast of the stock players theatergoers will see Mr. Richard Earle, who has made such a favorable impression in this week's part of "Charlie the Yang" in the same role he played

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—A good demand for public utility, steel and oil shares imparted a firm tone to opening prices in today's market. Crucible and U. S. Steel common opened higher as did U. S. Steel preferred, but American and Texas common, sugar stocks soon joined the upward movement under the leadership of Cuba Cane sugar preferred which gained a point.

Fresh buying power came into the market and early gains were extended. South Porto Rico Sugar climbed a point and American Beet Sugar, American Sugar, Cuba Cane and Cuban American improved fractionally, buying of this group being based on higher prices for the refined products.

Equipments, tobacco and coal shares also were strong. American Tobacco B jumped 5 points and Sumatra Tobacco 2 and Lina Locomotive and Burns Brothers B each advanced a point. Gulf States rose 1/8 on publication of a good 1922 earnings report, and Philadelphia Company advanced 1/4. Foreign exchanges opened firm, demand sterling selling just a point below the year's high of $4.85 and French francs gaining 1/2 points to 625 cents. German marks were quoted at 2002 cents as against the recent low record of 1620 cents.

The market continued strong and active during the morning, higher foreign exchange rates and the improved conditions of the country's banking position, revealed in the weekly statement of the federal reserve bank, apparently having a cheerful effect on sentiment. The buoyancy of the public utility issues and the rapid rise in the sugar, tobacco, textile, shipping and merchandising shares resulted in the growth of speculative interest and the increase in public participation. Except for a few moderate gains in low priced securities, railroad shares showed few important changes.

Profit taking was effective around midday in some of the usual leaders, Baldwin, Studebaker and Cor Products dropping one to two points below their early high. Kresge, Brooklyn Edison and Atlantic Gulf, common and preferred, all up three to six points were among outstanding strong spots. Call money opened at 4 1/2 per cent.

The closing was steady. Speculators for the advance continued to mark up prices in today's active stock market, buying being influenced by additional announcements of higher commodity prices and the weekly statement of the federal reserve bank, testifying to the satisfactory nature of the country's banking position. Sales approximated 1,250,000 shares.

Chicago Grain And Provisions

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—Notwithstanding some hesitancy at the outset, wheat took a general upward swing in price today during the early dealing. The principal strength was in the May delivery in which eastern interests were said to have large concentrated holdings. Selling at the start appeared to be of a local speculative nature and with the offerings readily absorbed by houses with eastern connections the market soon advanced. The opening which varied from unchanged figures to 1/2 lower, with May 1.20 1/4 to 1.20 1/2 and July 1.18 1/4 to 1.18 1/2 was followed by a rise to well above yesterday's finish all around.

In the absence of any aggressive selling, corn and oats rose with wheat. After opening unchanged to 1/4 off May 75 1/2 to 76 1/2, the corn market scored slight gains. The close was unsettled, 1/2 to 1 1/4 net higher with May 1.21 1/4 to 1.21 1/2 and July 1.14 1/4 to 1.14 1/2.

Oats started unchanged to 1/4 higher or May 45 1/2 to 45 3/4. Later all months showed gains. Higher prices on hogs gave firmness to the provision market. The close was unsettled, 1/2 to 3/4 net higher May 70 1/2 to 71 1/2.

VAL of PARADISE

by Jingo & Roe

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JOHN HANNON, wealthy ranch owner, his blind wife, BELLE, and their beautiful daughter, VAL, live happily together in Hannon's wonderful ranch home, Paradise. Redstar, the king of the local blood of horses, disappears from Paradise.

FATHER HILLAIRE, in charge of the Mission, introduces Val to his friend.

VELANTIE from the Border and an interesting friendship grows between the two young people.

Meanwhile Redstar, hidden away in the Blind Trail Hills, calls in vain for his beloved Val.

BOYCE CLENDENING, suitor of Val and favored by her parents, calls at Paradise and vows to run to earth the rustlers who may have stolen Redstar.

John Hannon is away on a mysterious journey and Val declares she will accompany Clendenning.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

A horse—a great red horse, monster tall, marvelously slim. The gentle eyes were sick with longing, while the delicate nostrils that quivered with each breath were pinched a bit for the kindly heart beneath the broad bay breast was fretting itself away.

And as the twilight fell Redstar the beautiful, Redstar the swift, the tender-eyed, the loving, threw up his head and sent a piercing cry ringing down the canons.

He stood like a rock and listened, his nostrils still, the breath held in his sides, while the echoes took it up and made a million voices of it.

When the last faint note had died away he called again, and again he listened, his eager eyes straining into the distance down the narrow defile. Until the last red veil had changed to blue and then to black on the darkening face of the wall, he sent his cry ringing in the dusk, held his breath and listened, pointed his ears and spread his thin nostrils for sound or scent of answer.

CHAPTER XIII

Deep Waters

AT Paradise the riders came in and sat down at the long tables in the dining-room. They were brown as Indians with the summer's work but they were neat to a man, their faces shining with much good soap and water, their hair smooth with the ministrations of the combs hanging to their chains beside the looking glasses in the back veranda. It was evening and the day was done, and they were full of jest and laughter, amiable with the pleasure of work accomplished, a pleasant place to lounge in.

Of all the merry crew Perly alone was missing, beside Jose and Rosy out with the herd on the upper range.

Perly had been to Santa Leandra and even now they could hear him unsaddling in the far corral, for any one could hear Perly from any reasonable distance.

"That boy," said Val, smiling from the table's head where she sat in John Hannon's absence, "could wake the dead."

"Right you are, Val," said Dirk. "I've seen him wake a town that was ready for burial. Ain't you, Tom?"

"Well, he ain't to say a dead one himself," answered the foreman, "but I like his style. Perly's worth a dozen fellows I could blow smoke on," and he caught the brown fist that rose on either side in good-natured threat, for there was an affectionate camaraderie between the foreman of Paradise and his riders.

And at that moment Perly himself came breezing in, his face unwashed, his hair sweating on his forehead, the broad leather flaps of his worn chaps waving. He stopped in the doorway and looked at them excitedly.

"Bore," he said, "what you think? The men from the Flying Y went back to the pass—and they found them guns still sticking out—two weeks after the raid! They went in—and then there guns was blind, propped up on rocks, and reaching out along one was the arm of an old coat stuffed with grass! That there drive was a one or two-man trick, and it was the Black Rustler that done it."

"Th' hell you say?"

"Sure do. An' ain't th' Flying Y boys wild? Eighty head of steers ready for drivin'—and a two-man trick—an' them guns back from the pass like a lot of minnies scared out by a boy like that?"

"But they didn't know, Perly," said Briston. "How'd they know them guns was blind? An' the Black Rustler ain't to be fooled with. He's killed too many men along this border. You know his fame as a gun man."

"Well, something's goin' to be done this time, or I miss my guess. Boyce Clendenning's ridin' up a plan for a ride, an' when that comes off I think he'll have his man."

"That's a man-size trick," said Briston, "ain't no one along th' line been able to do it for five years now, sheriff or big ranch or single avenger. I'd have to see it done to believe it."

"Well," said Perly, turning back to wash up, "I'm believin' in Boyce. He's a quiet feller, but he thinks a heap, uses his head in other words, an' he don't fly off th' handle. I want to be in when th' excitement ride."

"Yes," said Val, grimly, "and so do I."

"But you won't," said Briston. "I've heard you speak like that a time or two, girl, an' I don't want you to think serious about that line, loss or no loss, a party like that" would be ain't no place for a woman, an' your dad will sit on you good an' plenty when he comes home an' hears you talk."

And the feeling spread that perhaps Clendenning could do what he promised.

Val Hannon began to sing about the rooms of the ranch-house as she had not done since the black day which had seen the Redstar's loss. Not that she had forgotten the king. She would never forget him—not in a thousand years. But something within her bade her wait and hold herself with patience. Somewhere, deep within her consciousness, there was a strange, aching faith that sometime, somehow, she would hear the long-roll of his running feet, know the splendor of his matchless speed again.

And in the meantime a new glory seemed to sit upon the summer world, to clothe the heavens with mystic beauty. For the hand that Velantie had learned from his saddle to kiss was conscious of that career in every pulsing vein. The girl's eyes were sometimes drowsy with that memory, her soft lips parted with the wonder of it.

But there was one at Paradise who watched her with anxious and troubled heart—Briston, who had seen the girl grow up and loved her in a half-paternal way.

"There's somethin' new come to her," he told himself, smoking in the dusk beside the talking spring, "now what'll he do? Where's she been to find it?" and he thought uneasily of that night at Hannonwell's.

He made a few gentle probes into Val's confidence, but for once in his knowledge of her he got nowhere, found nothing he wanted or did not want to know.

Val Hannon was her father's daughter. John Hannon had loved once—and with every fibre of his heart, brain and body.

She did not know it yet, but every faithful nerve and pulse within her was awakening to the gentleness and vital charm of the man from Oblivion whose reckless blue eyes were beginning to hold such a keen dizziness when he looked at her.

And so it was that she rode more often to Refugio and sat in Father Hillaire's garden. That sharp and kindly man studied her with more distress than did Briston, for he knew a sad deal more.

"My daughter," said Father Hillaire, one day, "are you happy?"

The long brown eyes flashed up at him with so swift and telltale a light that the wise priest was answered.

"Yes, father," she said simply, "I am—but for one thing."

The other sighed.

"You have known me all your life, Val," he said, "Have I ever advised you wrongly in all that time?"

"No, father," she said wonderingly. "Would you listen to me now—if I advised something that might—make you less happy?"

"I should listen and heed you, father, if I were dead," said the girl gravely.

For a long time Father Hillaire looked out along the land, his fingers tapping the worn top of the table.

Then he sighed again and shook his silver head.

"Ah, well," he murmured, "perhaps 'tis just as well. As I said once before—it is in higher hands than mine."

"Eh?" queried Val.

"It was only testing your loyalty, dear child, I meant nothing."

And then, one day a little later, Velantie rode into the garden on the good white horse—and he was dumbly answered, for the look that leaped into Val Hannon's face was the "light that never was on land or sea" and she rose from her chair and went to meet the stranger as helplessly as the needle to the steel.

The man dropped from his saddle to strike a palm to hers—and for once in their friendship with him they had both forgotten the poise of a fugitive.

"When they turned to him the priest saw two things instantly—the joy of Val, the dawning struggle of the man."

"Father," said Velantie, straightly, "I am in deep waters."

"Yes, my son."

"I merely turn my eyes to the fair shores for a fleeting comfort—ere I drift out to sea, beyond all hope."

"There was a desperate longing in the words, a depth and wildness that gripped the old man's heart."

He turned from them without a word, facing the far end of the garden with his hands behind his back, and his rosary swinging at his knees. Val Hannon listened to this mystic speech open-lipped, for she did not understand. Then Velantie took her hand for a moment and smiled down at her—and it was as if she had known him always.

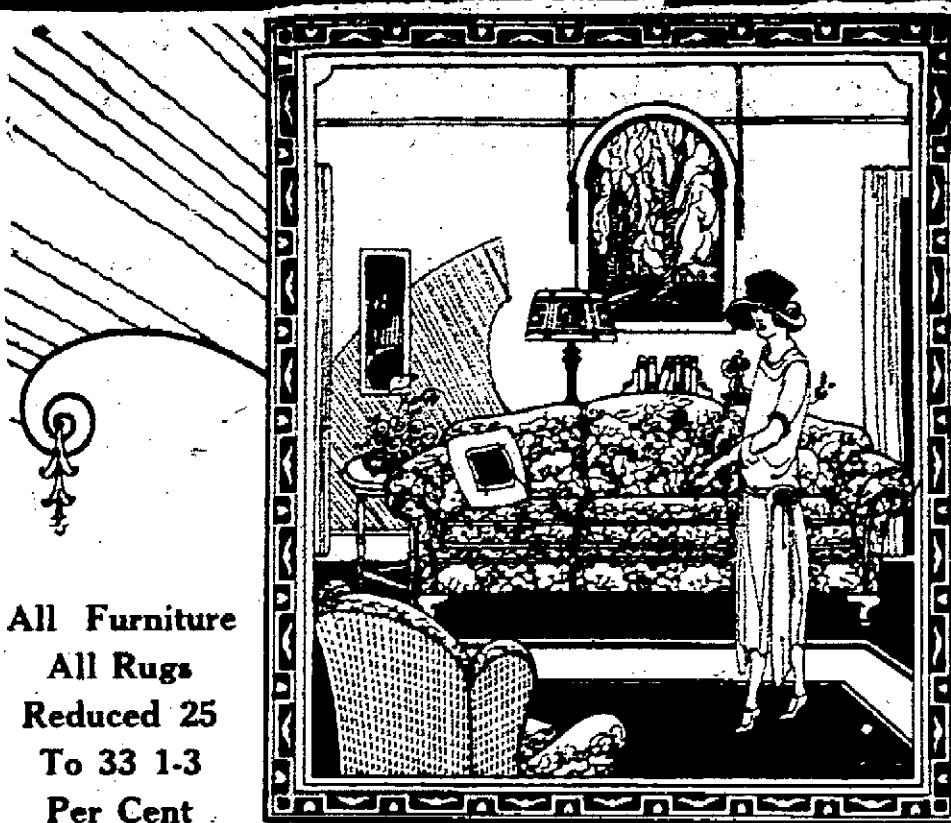

He kept the speech to the common place, the pleasant exchange of friends, and tangle of far places and distant towns, but nothing on earth could have shrouded his blue eyes, nor the telltale lightning of his lips from time to time when their smile became too soft.

Velantie was a man who mastered self, and he meant to do just as he had told the father, look, for a short time, he meant to make it short, perhaps a trip or two more, at the fair green shores before he drifted out for good and all.

CITY MAY GET "LITTLE THEATRE"

"If there were three thousand little theatres in the United States, instead of only three hundred," said Lowell Ames Norris, director of the Bureau of Community Service, speaking before an organization meeting of the little theatre movement at the high school last night, "the legitimate stage would not be obliged to reap its yearly crop of failures—girls blindly seeking self expression. Neither would Los Angeles be known throughout the entire United States as the 'City of Disappointed Stars'."

This natural desire for self expression could be turned into safe and wholesome community drama channels. Over fifty interested persons attended the meeting. Mrs. H. H. Eccles was elected temporary chairman and an organization committee was named including Mrs. Lena Kline Reed, Miss Ruth Thompson and Mrs. Harry W. Miller. Another public meeting will be held Thursday evening, February 15. Mr. Norris, in further outlining the way in which the little theatre would be of distinct community benefit said: "Today as at no other time, perhaps since medieval days when the churches presented their yearly morality plays has there been such a wide spread interest in the stage and a sincere desire to further educational aims through this medium. Mrs. Samuel Hordow spoke on the ways the little theatre would prove of distinct value to this city, and showed clearly the way similar movements were helping to relieve the nervous tension in Europe at the present time."

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, February 9. (United Press.)—No mounted umpires will be riding around the gardens in the major league baseball parks next season. The possibility of putting the arbiters on steeds hadn't been disclosed until some one advanced the question as to how the umpire could rule on a hit under Ben Johnson's zone system for home runs.

Ban's new ideas about the elimination of the freak home run have been passed on, according to Commissioner Landis and since they are dead numbers it is not necessary to get out the charts and blue prints and explain how Ban wanted to make a home run what it was when it wasn't.

Briefly it was a proposal to place lines or zones around the parks. Balls hit between the closest lines would be doubles, etc.

The more that radical proposals are made to change the baseball rules, the more it becomes evident that no changes are needed.

As long as the managers are building parks with home run fields, it is not consistent to adopt rules to make the clouts harder.

After all, as Commissioner Landis says, it is apparent from the attendance figures that the fans like home runs. The club owners don't care anything about home runs or baseball.

Blackheaded Pimples Quit With S. S. S.

Why? Pimple-Poison Goes Where Red-Blood-Cells Live! S. S. S. Builds These Red-Blood-Cells.

You can be sure of this, nature has no antidote for red-blood-cells. Pimple-poison can't live in the red rivers of your blood as long as there are enough red-blood-cells in it. More red-

The shame of a blemished face!

Red-cells: That is what you need when you see pimples staring at you in the mirror. Blackheaded pimples are worse! Eczema is worse yet! You can try everything under the sun—you'll find only one answer, more cell-power in your blood! The tremendous results produced by an increase in red-blood-cells is one of the A. B. C's of medical science. Red-cells mean clear, pure, rich blood. They mean clear, red, 47, lovely complexion. They mean better power, because all your nerves are fed by your blood. They mean freedom forever from pimples, from the blackhead pest, from boils, from eczema and skin eruptions, from rheumatism, from that tired, exhausted, run-down feeling. Red-blood-cells are the most important thing in the world to each of us. S. S. S. will build them for you. S. S. S. has been known since 1892, as one of the greatest blood-builders, blood-purifiers and system strengtheners ever produced. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the most economical.

They are selling something for profit, and if the customers would pay to see Uncle Tom's Cabin every day the mags would buy the pounds and

During the winter meetings, when all kinds of amendments for the present code and new clauses were being discussed, "Cap" Houston, the popular owner of the New York Yankees and one of the best examples in baseball of what most club owners are not, remarked:

"I don't believe in passing any rules that no one intends to observe." He was talking about raising the player limit to twenty-five.

"What's the use to have any player limit?" he asked. "They all cheat and you got to cheat back if you don't want to get left behind. If we could put a hundred players under option, some of them would speak in an extra fire. If this business has to be cut-throat, it ought to be free-for-all, with everything wild and then no one could howl."

Kentucky Divorcee

Freed In Slaying

Of Prominent Man

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 9.—A jury in Criminal Court late today acquitted Mrs. Olive L. Jones, divorcee, of a charge of murder in connection with the slaying of O. J. Black, automobile company sales manager, who was shot to death in the woman's apartment here Christmas Eve. Mrs. Jones pleaded self defense. The slain man was prominent in business and social circles in the city.

Mrs. C. H. Jones, the former wife of C. H. Jones, Cincinnati railroad man, created a sensation when she appeared at police headquarters on Christmas morning and declared she had killed the man who "broke up her home," and added that she had kept an all night vigil over Black's body, unable to summons courage to call officers.

Senate Democrats;

Simmons Withdraws

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Withdrawal of Senator Simmons of North Carolina, from the race with Senator Robinson of Arkansas, for Democratic leadership in the next Senate, when Senator Underwood of Alabama, the present Democratic leader will retire, was announced today by Senator Overman of North Carolina, on behalf of his colleague.

The announcement by Senator Overman was regarded as assuring the election of Senator Robinson. Senator Simmons authorized the announcement from his sick bed at his home at Newbern, North Carolina.

TELL ME I SHOULDN'T

One of the gang told me the other day that it would hurt the party if the people knew all the facts on the inside. Why shouldn't the people know the truth instead of covering things up, which by the way has been the cause of inside political fights since before the day of the old "Democratic First" and "Bloody Fourth." Those were great days when poor Cooper and dear old Val white, white, and black, both had reading matter that both sides read, but wasn't a bit more interesting than the price of six-fifty on those patent sandals with brocade satin quarters, or those new brown bials for men on that new French last at nine-fifty.

Herrick Said Too Much

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Representative Manuel Herrick, Republican, Oklahoma, who called the "aerial dare devil of Congress" took a verbal fight in the House today but was brought down suddenly by objections from members who said he had transgressed the rules of parliamentary debate.

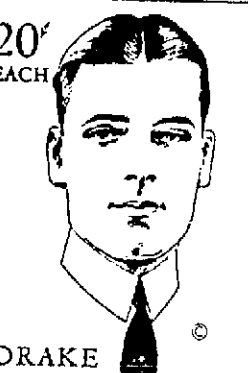

The Oklahoma representative took as his text stories about his alleged "romance" with a young lady in Washington, published by the Washington Herald and Washington Times. He denied the stories in detail and asserted that the newspapers, the Hearst publications in general and certain individuals, but when his observations reached an altitude not usually recorded in public print, Representative Stafford, Republican, Wisconsin, objected that the speaker had used language "shocking to the sensibilities of all members of the House."

Thereupon there was a hurried consultation of the House floor as a result of which Mr. Herrick withdrew everything he had said. Thus much that would otherwise have made interesting reading, and would have been privileged for publication, vanished into thin air as completely as if it never had been uttered.

Science in surgery and electricity have advanced greatly during the past fifty years, but treatment of disease by old-fashioned root and herb medicines has never been improved upon. The leader of them all is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which after fifty years of success is today recognized as the standard remedy for female ills and sold every where for that purpose. Replies to a questionnaire recently sent out to 50,000 women by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. of Lynn, Mass., proved that it benefits 98 out of every 100 women who try it. ### American To Become British Peer

Charles E. Fellow.

Professor Charles Ernest Fellow, formerly Professor of Chemistry at Columbia University, New York City, a native-born American citizen, is in line for a British peerage through the death, in Washington, of his father, Henry E. Fellow, the Sixth Viscount of Exmouth, who succeeded to the title last August. The father retained his American citizenship and refused the title, which the son will accept. Professor Fellow, who was born in 1863, added, however, he would spend half his time in America.

Crosses Cut On Body Of Choir Singer, Claimed

CHICAGO, February 9.—(By the Associated Press)—A warrant for the arrest of Miss Mildred Erick, said to be a choir singer, on a charge of disorderly conduct, was issued today in Municipal court on complaint of her father as a result of her story that two hooded men had cut crosses on her body with a pen knife.

The young woman who is 24 years old, said she had recently joined a Catholic church and that soon thereafter she received a note signed "Ku Klux Klan" and threatening "we are going to get you for leaving your church." Last Monday night, she said she was kidnapped and mutilated by her assailants. A physician who attended her said he found ten cuts in the form of crosses on her body.

The police explained that the issuance of the warrant was chiefly for the purpose of permitting them to take her from a lodging house where she lives with a trained nurse, for the purpose of questioning her.

DANIELS IS ACQUITTED

"Not Guilty" was the verdict of the jury in the case of Bud Daniels, former Mt. Joy merchant, brought to trial before Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court, on a charge of second degree murder for the slaying of James H. Compton of Mt. Joy, last October. The jury through its foreman, Will S. Sellards, turned its verdict, exonerating the accused from all blame in connection with the killing, shortly before two o'clock Friday afternoon after deliberating on the case almost three hours.

The jury took a number of ballots during its consideration of the case and it was stated that a majority voted for acquittal from the start and finally agreed upon a verdict on their return from the noon hour luncheon.

Daniels, who was in court when the verdict was read freeing him from the serious charge, was discharged by Judge Thomas and after he had thanked the jurors left the court house in company with his counsel, Attorney B. F. Kimble. He declared that he had at all times felt confident that he would be exonerated.

A male quartette will render a special number. The Young Peoples' services this week have been very successful, and the promoters are much elated over the attendance and the interest shown.

Early Vote On Debt Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(By the A. P.)—The House was prepared to consider today legislation to give effect to the British debt settlement agreement under a probable arrangement for debt which would make possible a vote by late in the day. Republican leaders held no doubt of the passage of the bill by an overwhelming majority. Prospects today were that the administration ship bill would be given preference in the senate for a time at least, when the debt bill goes to that body.

Much Plowing Accomplished

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(By the A. P.)—Field work in most localities and much plowing and preparation of the ground for spring seeding has been accomplished in all southern and central districts, as a result of mild weather in January. Some seeding has already been done.

The week ending January 20 was the sixth successive week, according to the weather bureau, during which the temperature was much above the seasonal average in all interior districts of the country.

Generous rains were received in the Ohio and Lower Mississippi valleys. Dirt roads were rendered soft and muddy in the central and southern regions where heavy rains fell.

$56,580,000 For Rivers

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—(By the A. P.)—Disposal of the rivers and harbors section of the bill appeared to have cleared the way for a vote on the army appropriation measure in the senate before adjournment.

Agreement was reached yesterday for limitation of debate on the bill after 2 p. m. today.

In voting late yesterday to table all amendments to the bill reducing the amount of work on rivers and harbors, the senate overruled the recommendation of the budget bureau, setting the figure at $27,000,000 and approved the house total of $56,580,000.

The vote, which was 46 to 35 with 26 democrats and 20 republicans joining to table reduction amendments ended three days consideration of the waterways provision. The senate also voted down two proposals to reduce the appropriation $42,000,000 and $50,000,000 respectively, the last being defeated 38 to 44.

Wanda Hawley Seeks Divorce

LOS ANGELES, CALIF., February 9.—(By the Associated Press)—Failure to provide, brutally, refusal to work and dissipation of large sums of money she gave him were four of the grounds upon which Wanda Hawley, motion picture actress, asked a divorce from Allan Burton Hawley in an action filed here yesterday.

Miss Hawley alleged she not only had to make her own living, but had to make her husband's also; that he treated her with contempt; called her "a brainless fool," swore at her in the presence of others; criticized her personal appearance in public; abused and injured her by dragging her from an automobile and told her it was none of her business when she asked him about reports that he was entertaining men and other women at their home.

Local Firemen Assist In Putting Out Stubborn Blaze In New Boston

Fire, thought to have started from a match dropped among clothes in a basket, caused an estimated damage of $1,500 to the homes of W. D. Neal and Samuel Claire, 643 and 645 Glenwood avenue, New Boston, about 10:30 o'clock last night. The property is a double house, owned by the Whitaker-Glessner Company, each side of the house containing four rooms.

Dorothy Neal, 9, and Wilma, 7, were playing with matches in the kitchen of the home early in the evening, and it is believed that they dropped a lighted match among the clothes, which smoldered for several hours. The family was asleep in the front part of the house when Mr. and Mrs. Neal were awakened by smoke and the flames. An alarm was sounded and the village firemen, assisted by the East End firemen of Portsmouth, were soon on the scene, and had several lines of hose playing in the flames. Two rooms of the Neal side of the house were destroyed, and the two front rooms in the dwelling were badly damaged. The kitchen of the Claire side of the house was destroyed and damage was done to other rooms by smoke and water. The Neal family failed to save any of their household furnishings, and they place their loss at $300 with no insurance. The Claire family suffered a loss of close to $100, while the damage to the building is estimated at more than $1,000. The Whitaker-Glessner Company has insurance on the house.

Death Calls Father Joseph Scherer After Short Illness With Pneumonia

Rev. Jos. M. Scherer, C. S. C., for many years the beloved pastor of the St. Mary's church in South Bend, Ind., passed away there Thursday, death being caused by pneumonia after a four day illness. News of his passing away was received by local relatives this morning.

Funeral services will be held at Notre Dame next Monday morning and the last rites of this well known priest will be attended by Portsmouth relatives. Interment will be in the burying ground of the Order of the Holy Cross, Notre Dame, where he received his education.

Father Scherer is survived by his venerable mother, Mrs. Walburga Scherer, who resides with her daughter, Mrs. Sophia Vetter, Fifth and Brown streets, this city. He also leaves three sisters, Mrs. Vetter, Sister M. Rosalie of the St. Mary's Academy, Notre Dame, Ind., and Sister M. Walburga of Mt. Carmel Hospital, Columbus and two brothers, Martin Scherer of Mun's Run and Charles Scherer of Los Angeles, Cal.

Father Scherer held a pastorate in New Orleans after being ordained to the priesthood and also for many years was president of the St. Joseph College, Eighth street, Cincinnati. He left the Queen City in 1900 for South Bend, where he had since been located and was held in the highest esteem. Father Scherer each year visited Portsmouth relatives during the Easter tide and always assisted Father Goebel in conducting services in St. Mary's church. He had many dear friends here and it was his delight and pleasure to visit among them. Years ago when he was ordained he came back to his home town and read his first mass under the late Msgr. Nonnen in the St. Mary's church, it being an impressive event that many Catholics in this city will recall.

Father Scherer was an able pulpit orator and was a man who was studious and resourceful, his sermons always being carefully prepared and impressively delivered. He loved his work and it was a pleasure to administer to his congregation. He had rounded out the allotted span of life as he was 72 years of age and had served his Master faithfully and well. News of his passing will bring sorrow to many hearts here.

Robbers Steal Alcohol, Truck And Driver, Are Later Arrested

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Five robbers today kidnapped the driver of a motor truck, with his vehicle and 2,000 quarts of alcohol, but later lost their loot when the police seized the truck in a garage on Mulberry Street, near New York's whiskey curb. The bandits escaped.

The robbery, one of the boldest in months, occurred in daylight on Warren Street, in Lower Manhattan, while the street was filled with office workers out for lunch. Joseph Disraeli, driver of the truck, which belonged to the Kentucky Distillery and Wholesale Company, had stopped in front of the building occupied by the Corona Chemical Company to deliver his load varied from a Baltimore and Ohio Railroad pier, when a touring car containing the robbers drew up behind his truck.

Officials of the company saw the quintet surround the driver and forced him into their car, with a revolver muzzle pressed to his ribs. Then one of the bandits, a negro, took the truck's wheel and both vehicles sped away before the officials could reach the street.

The touring car headed for Jamaica, ten miles away and there deposited their prisoner, with orders to disappear for a couple of hours. Disraeli, however, telephoned the police.

Meanwhile detectives, unaware of a general alarm, spread for the robbers, noticed a negro having difficulty in driving a truck into the Mulberry Street Garage. They promptly made an investigation which led to capture of the truck and its contents, but the negro escaped in the excitement.

The detective took the owner of the garage and his wife to the station for questioning.

P. H. S. AND IRONTON HI GET IN HIGH GEAR TOMORROW NIGHT IN LOCAL GYM

Fans Ready For A Regular Game

The stage is all set for tomorrow night's big basketball game, the one high school contest in this section, that is of more interest to court fans than any other on the local team's 1922-23 schedule. It is with the Iron-ton hi boys who are coached by "Shorty" Davies. The game is to be played in the P. H. S. gym, starting at eight o'clock, and it will be packed with P. H. S. and I. H. S. students and loyal fans who will yell their heads off for their respective teams.

Iron-ton has sent word that a big crowd of rooters will accompany the team, which means there will be some real cheering from both sides, as well as real playing.

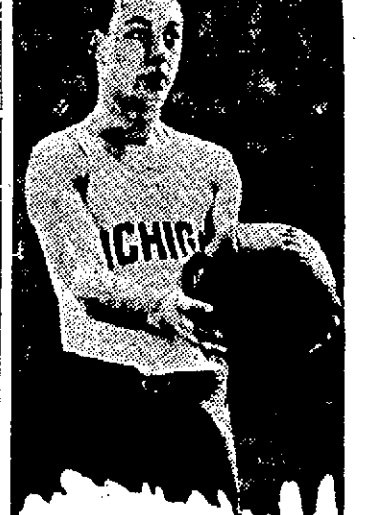

Captain Harry Wagner of the P. H. S. squad has the utmost confidence in his players and feels sure they will hang up a victory that will long be remembered. On the other hand, Coach Davies of I. H. S., unwilling to admit defeat so soon, says that his five will show the Red and Blue basket tossers a few things about the game is over.

P. H. S. suffered a 13 to 8 defeat at Iron-ton in their second game of the season and before they had really hit their stride.

Since that time the locals have been going like a house afire and the I. H. S. five is expected to be taken into camp with much ease when they clash on the pine plankers here.

The P. H. S. regulars, Captain Elbesser and Monk, will be on the forward positions with Phillips at center and C. Flowers and Barklow at guard. Doll, forward, and Gose, guard, will be the first subs to get into the game, should the locals run up the big score they have in mind.

MICHIGAN STAR MAKES BIG SCORE AGAINST STATE

Wm. J. Miller, the University of Michigan's star forward, who was placed on the official All-Conference basketball selection last year, has answered another honor.

In the Ohio State-Michigan game, played on the Michigan court on Jan. 27, he made a total of 27 points, with 8 field goals and 11 free throws. This is the highest number of points that have been run up by one man in any Western Conference game in the past two years.

Miller is very instrumental in the success of the Wolverine five this year.

Operate on Donohue
CINCINNATI, O., Feb. 9.—Pitcher Pore Donohue, who has been wintering in Mexico, will be operated upon this week for the removal of his tonsils. August Herrman, president of the Cincinnati National League baseball club announced today, Donohue will report to Manager Pat Moran at Orlando March 10.

Four Fight Titles Are In Serious Danger Of Changing Hands

By NEA Service
NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Four fight champions are in danger of losing their titles before the passing of 1923.

On three of the four title holders the crown is resting very unsteady. One good wallop from some ambitious youngster and then soft must.

Johnny Wilson, fluke holder of the middleweight title, has done little or no fighting for a year. There are a half dozen middleweights capable of disposing of Wilson.

Joe Lynch, if he ever consents to a meeting with Carl Tremaine, will almost certainly be on the losing end. Several other bantams are equally dangerous.

Cricht, the European champion, is being press-agented for a bout with Johnny Kilbane. It is doubtful if Cricht will be able to defeat the feather champion, but there are a half dozen fighters in this country who have better than an even chance.

Will Mickey Walker, the welter champion, be able to hold off Dave Slade?

Also there is a rumor that Benny Leonard is packing on weight so fast that he will soon have outgrown the lightweight limit.

BASKETBALL FACTS WORTH KNOWING

Q. Do the cutters stand with their hands up or down when jumping?
A. One hand must be in contact with the middle of the small of the back and it shall remain in this position until the ball is tapped. The only restriction on the other hand is that the center may not use it to interfere with an opponent.

Q. A player, after completing a dribble, stops. Seeing no one to pass to he holds the ball with both hands and touches it to the floor. The ball does not leave either hand and he does not move his feet. Is this a foul?
A. This is a discontinued dribble in amateur basketball. As such, it is a violation and not a foul. A player has no right to touch the ball to the floor at the end of a dribble.

Q. What constitutes a discontinued dribble?
A. The dribble ceases the instant the ball comes to rest in one or both hands, or if it touches both hands simultaneously. In the amateur game, if a player attempts to dribble again after any one of these things happen, it is a discontinued dribble.

Q. An opponent throws the ball. It hits my back and rolls out of bounds. Whose ball is it out of bounds?
A. As you caused the ball to go out of bounds, it is opponents' ball.

Q. Was a soccer ball first used for basketball?
A. Yes. In fact, the original rules were based on soccer regulations.

Wins 100 Straight Games—Team Claims Basketball Title

By NEA Service
NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—These are days of basketball records. In the west the Vincennes, Ind., team has been attracting much attention in interscholastic circles.

During the last three years the Vincennes team has not been beaten on its home floor and has lost only one game in the last 165 played.

Down east the Passaic, N. J., high school five is the big noise. The Passaic team seems to clutch as the high school fives in its section as it has won 100 straight games.

Intersectional games in football created keen interest in the gridiron sport last year. A number of games were staged, not only by the colleges but the preparatory schools as well.

Why not an intersectional game between Vincennes and Passaic? It would seem from the records of the two clubs that they are entitled to represent the west and east.

Coach Blood of the Passaic team is ready to talk business with any high school team that disputes the right of Passaic to be called the national champs of their class.

RISING FROM THE RANKS

TIMES have changed in the navy since Admiral Sampson disapproved the promotion of Gunner Morgan last he be socially unsuccessful. The naval information bureau in announcing the reduction of the number of appointments to Annapolis Academy from five for each congressman and senator to three, for the year 1924, with 15 more to be nominated by the president and 100 allowed to enter from the ranks of enlisted men in the navy, adds that "within the past few years it has been found at Annapolis that many of the leading scholars, prominent athletes and men honored by their own classmates by election to class offices have been boys who won their appointments by competitive examinations while serving as blue jackets at sea." With that report it might be well to reduce the congressional list again and secure more leading scholars and athletes from the ranks.

PROGRESS ON REFUNDING

APPROVAL by the British ministry of the war-debt refunding terms carried home from Washington by Chancellor of the Exchequer Baldwin is an important step toward removal of this huge international obligation from the domain of speculation. It does not constitute a contractual arrangement between the two governments but it may reasonably be regarded as laying a firm foundation for a contract that will be acceptable to congress and so may be formally entered into.

The conditions that were written into the bill creating the refunding commission never have been regarded as anything but a starting point for the negotiators; if congress intended that they should be rigidly adhered to there would have been little work for the refunders. The debt may run for 62 years and the interest rate will be less than congress prescribed, if the plan is carried into effect. Generous cognizance is thus taken of the difficulties which confront the fiscal officers of Great Britain and the British people. But that in the long run Britons will pay less than Americans in interest may be doubted, since Mr. Mellon's agreement to 3 and 3½ per cent indicates his confidence that Liberty Bonds will be refunded at much less than the prevailing rates of interest on such obligations.

If good example arouses the spirit of emulation ratification of the plan accepted by the British ministry will inspire continental nations likewise to seek a means of refunding.

A RECIPE FOR CONCORD

MISS ALICE ROBERTSON, congresswoman, who, whatever her other failings may be, certainly cannot be accused of entering marriage without due and extended deliberation, nevertheless has a recipe for marital concord. "Let couples at the marriage ceremony agree to get angry at the same time," she suggests.

There is power in temperance of mind, of patience, not only in the home but everywhere. A wayward temper is an intolerable defect in character, a luxury entirely too expensive for the average person.

A physician, when reproved for prescribing bread pills for a child, retorted: "Well, they won't hurt the child, and may help the mother." Irritableness is a pill that is loaded with dynamite. A display of temper may seem to relieve the feelings of a person for a moment, but it actually exhausts him, depresses him, and leaves him with a keen realization of weakness. Its effect is to alienate the respect of friends, and to isolate the person from society.

In history are numerous instances of great men, whose power was limited or suddenly cut short because of intemperance of mind. The calm, collected mind is alert, but temper leads to extravagance in action and stubbornness in retreat. The ill tempered person is his own worst enemy.

Miss Robertson's advice to couples to make such a sane resolution is excellent. A better recipe for concord, however, is "keep the resolution."

Any woman will forgive a prevarication if it is used in a compliment aimed at her.

If one does not have money, one must have friends, a speaker says. Otherwise a loan is impossible.

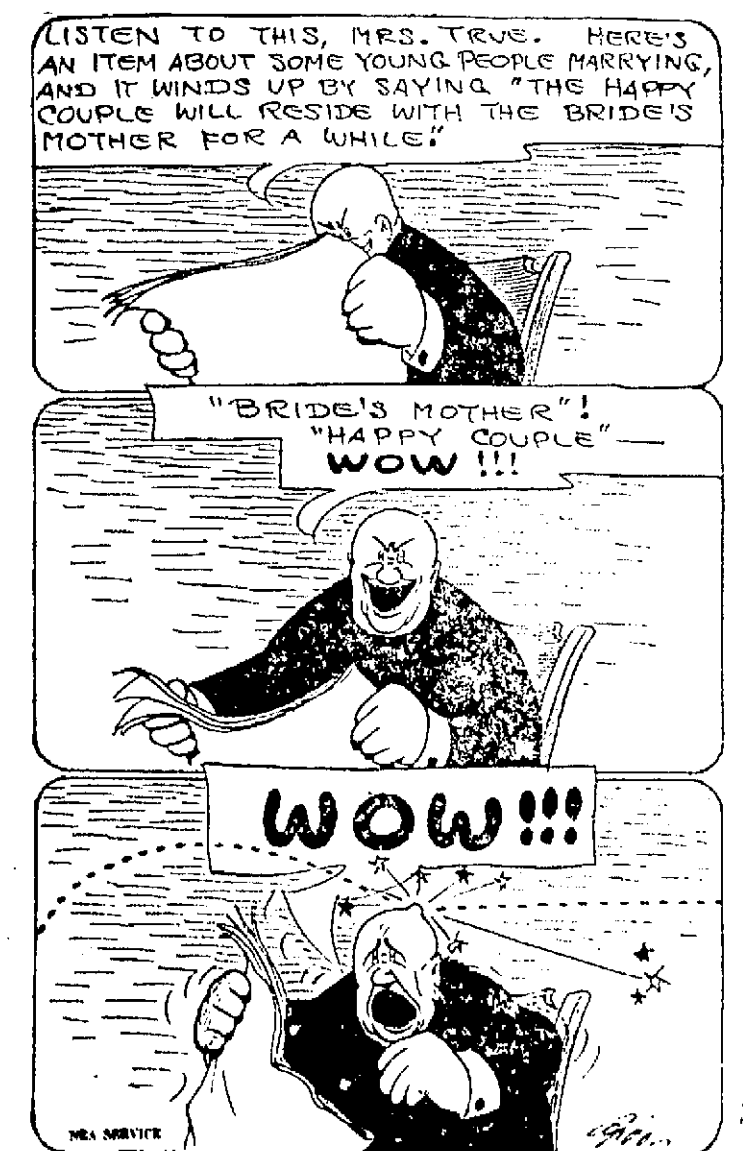

Some women should be reminded that holding a baby is of more importance to the race than holding an office.

The German mark will not have reached its lowest point, apparently, until it becomes filling for mattresses.

One advantage of serving the public in the legislature is that "honorable" sticks to a man the remainder of his life.

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, Feb. 9—Thoughts while strolling around New York: A cerulean sky.

A tangy wind. Who cares about Florida? I'd rather be chapped than sunburned. There's Miss Margaret Wilson. A tea room called "The Cat's Purr." A place for the tabbies to gather.

Whatever because of the flapper galoshes? Gielet Burgess. He coined the term "Bronxide." By Heck. A minstrel parade. But too much noise to hear the band. A customer reading the headlines to "Billie George," the Bryant Park news vendor.

That woman forgot some of the books. O lady, lady! Why do street fakers roll cigarettes with brown paper? And wear derby hats. An upstairs Greek cafe. Famous hang-out for Broadway "hop-heads." And across the street the table d'hôte rendezvous for the out-at-the-elbow back writers. I used to loaf there—and may again. Who knows?

Suffering Snakes! Heywood Brown, the critic, has a hair cut. Movie extras waiting in the chill. Midgets. Giants. Bewiskered venerables. And the trailing army of penny lunch-wagons. Boys fishing for coins at the subway gratings.

The old site of the Haymarket. What hectic nights! Gold-Tooth Fanny, the singing blonde! Coko Sade with a tattooed cheek! Ike the Booncor. One wonders where the winds of chance have scattered them. A stray cat asleep in a waiting limousine.

The hurry and bustle of the Pennsylvania station. Always romance here. Hurrying red-caps. Clanging bells. Stunts. That fellow galloping along like an antelope will never make it. Truth boys don't sell the glass revolvers filled with candy, anymore.

Returning trouper. Leading lady with the white poodle. And they're all happy to get back to their beloved Broadway—even if they starve. A fascination about the depot news-stands. Hello! Greenwich Village has a new periodical—The Jazzy-Ka-Jazzy. That's all today.

The story is credited to George Colman. Colman transmits most of his business in an arm-wag back of his office—to keep away from the cur-

Oh, To Be Young
(New York Herald)

Oh, to be young as wing bills are young,
Lifting their reckless youth unto the sky,
Daring to fling their joy as stars are flung
High in a clouded heaven and more high;

Oh, to be young as shyest April rains,
Not hardly conscious of the joy they bring,
Tapping like at hearts and window panes,
That long have shut themselves unto the spring.

Oh, to be young as willow buds that wake
To taste the warm sweet wonder of the sun,
Or blowing leaves that lift themselves to make
Networks of light and shadow, one by one.

These are so young! Oh, to be young as these!
I have known youth as old as twisted trees!
